Ram,
 How do people always get us mixed up? Maybe its because our names are so similar. Oh well, its been fun, in Driver's Ed and Health and Bible. Hope we have some classes together next year. Have a great summer, take care.
 Love ya,
 Ram

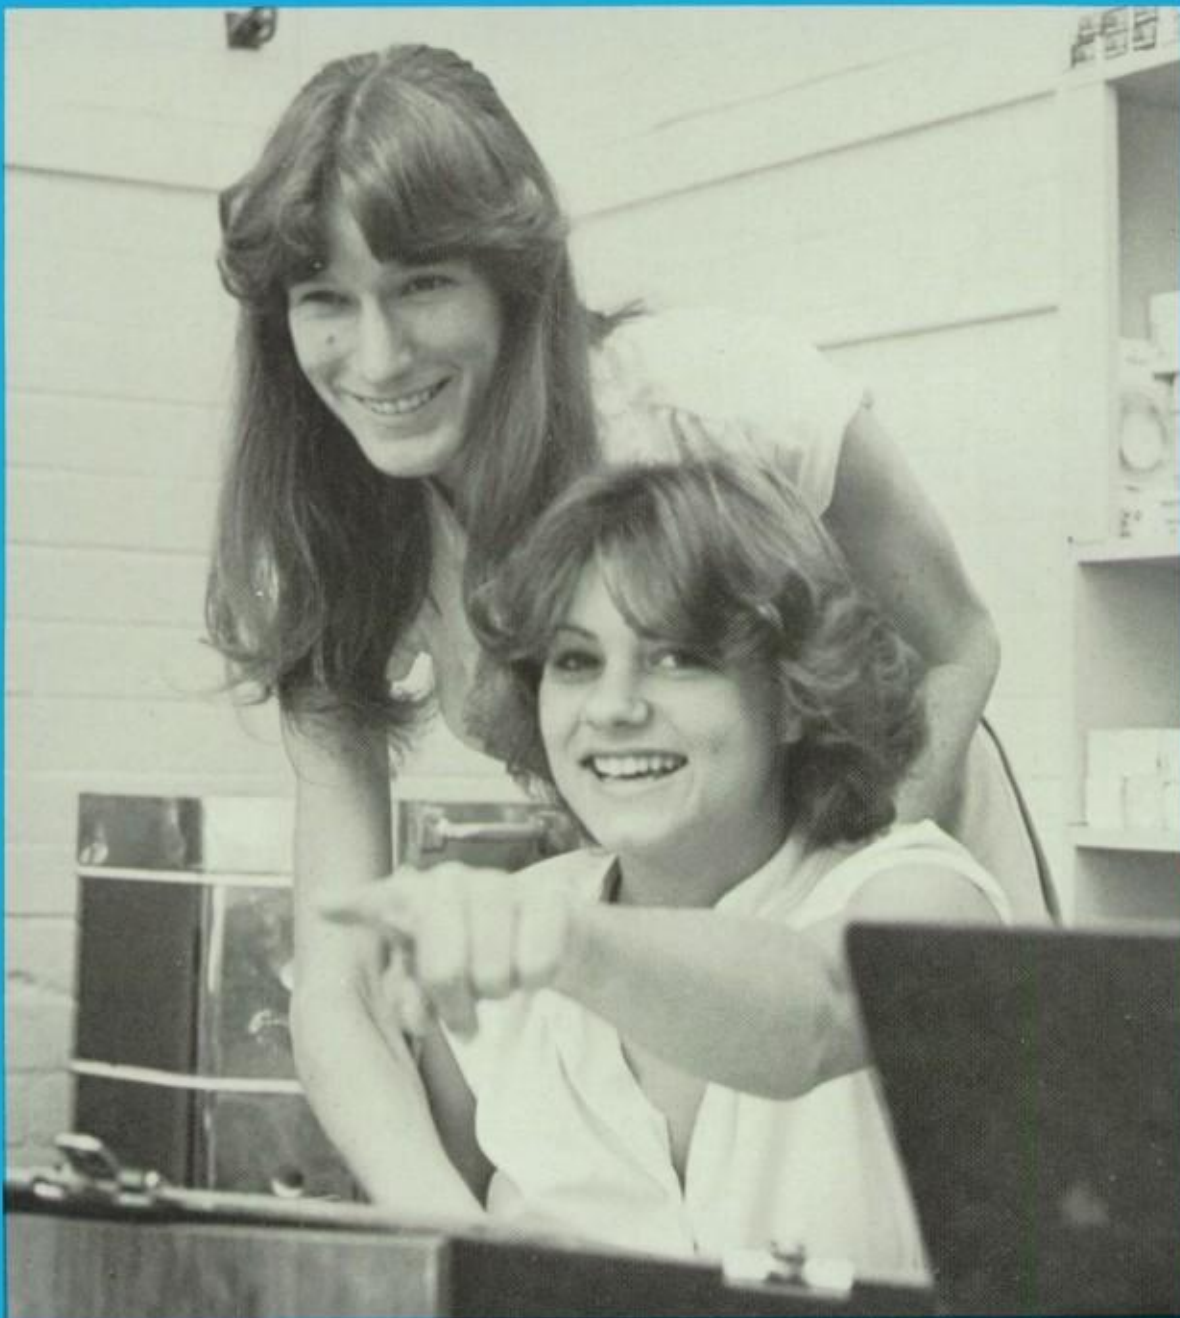

IN DAVID'S Psalm he likens Christ to a shepherd caring for his sheep, leading them in all areas of life-in the green pastures, beside the still waters, in the paths of righteousness, through the valleys of death, in the presence of enemies, even to the house of the Lord.

AS CHRISTIANS Christ is our shepherd, and he leads us in times of plenty and times of need, when there is loneliness and when there is joy, in quiet times and sharing times.

He Leadeth Me In The Paths Of Righteousness

Administration Lead In "Building For Life"

"BUILDING FOR life," the motto of Christian High has been the aim of the administration throughout the thirty-one years PCHS has been in existence. They have led hundreds of students through that crucial four year time period that is full of questions and pressures with love and mature spiritual understanding. The administration are the leaders of our school. Their responsibilities are to carry out the decisions of the board and to give leadership to the faculty and staff. Dr. Crenshaw is the Superintendent. Along with that responsibility he gives of his time to sponsor the pep club. Mr. Buckner is the chaplain of the school and also is in charge of getting financial support and heading the O.A.W. campaign. Mr. Beamis is the Athletic Director and is the head coach of football. He is also in charge of student affairs.

Leadership Begins . . .

. . . WHEN ONE learns to be a servant. The office staff works hard serving the administration, faculty, students, parents, and friends of the school.

The PCHS office staff consists of Mrs. Bond, the guidance counselor, Mrs. Oesterle, secretary to the administration, Mrs. Van Waters, the registrar who runs the attendance office, Mr. Gumm, the school accountant and Mrs. Mesarosh, secretary to Mr. Gumm.

This small group of workers is essential for running Christian High efficiently. We appreciate their work . . .

We students at PCHS are abundantly blessed with Christian teachers who desire to follow God's leading. They, in turn, lead us in spiritual growth in all areas of academics by being Christlike examples. We as students should uphold our teachers in prayer and truly appreciate all they do for us.

"But we request of you, brethren, that you appreciate those who diligently labor among you, and have charge over you in the Lord and give you instruction, and that you esteem them very highly in love because of their work. Live in peace with one another."

THIS YEAR's picnic started the school year with fantastic fun. Summer vacation ended, however, but the uniting of friends from a long summer's break made up for the loss. This was not true with the Freshmen who were just getting use to class participation and class spirit. To the students returning this was long looked for.

ALONG WITH the free pop and ice cream, food and fun started the day's activities. Beyond this there were games to challenge class unity. Some of the games were the human barrel race, the three person ski race, the food eating contest, and the great rug-of-war competition. The whole day was enjoyed by all who took part.

"Our Town" Revisited

THE SETTING of "Our Town" was in Grover's Corners New Hampshire in the early 1900's. The story begins with the childhood of Emily Webb and George Gibbs. They grow up, fall in love and marry but tragedy occurs when Emily dies in childbirth. In the grave side scene Emily's spirit returns and realizes that the past cannot be relived.

Student Council Initiates New Ideas

LEADING THE school in many activities, the Student Council provided functions to promote school unity and spirit. The two major projects worked on this year was the annual school picnic and the Valentine's Banquet. In the first week of December, they attended the CSI Conference in Arrowhead Springs, California, where they participated in workshops on fund raising, goal setting and temperament traits. The leadership of Dan Cradiel, student body president, was missed for two months because of a football injury.

DAN CADRIEL initiated the first cabinet at P.C.H.S. The cabinet consists of the Presidents of the major organizations at school. The main goal of this cabinet was to let all the presidents know what the other organizations were doing and to avoid conflicts between them.

New Students Invade PCHS

MANY NEW students came in during the first semester and at the beginning of the second semester from various schools. A few comments from new students about Christian High were "The atmosphere is quite different", "I like having prayer before classes", "I like the closeness of the whole school and the size of the student body as a whole", appreciation of the fact that "All the teachers are Christians."

Agee Policy that 750,000 Mexicans could be allowed to enter the United States legally each year on six-month work visas.

After the six months, the alien would be required to leave the United States until the following year. The visas would be good for five consecutive years and would be renewable. The Mexicans would not be eligible for welfare or other social benefits. The argument might be made that the visas would make it possible for Mexicans

By legalizing some immigration, the United States might at least relieve some of the human misery Mexicans suffer at the hands of "coyotes," smugglers who deal in human cargo. The work visas also might reduce illegal immigration to manageable levels.

There are some problems to Dr. Cornelius' proposal that be explored thoroughly, however, a pragmatic alternative to an immigration policy that is not working.

'Captain Kangaroo' In Danger?

Has warm, friendly Charles Kuralt turned mean after coming off the road to anchor CBS's morning news show? Would he do in "Captain Kangaroo"? In Los Angeles the other day a reporter asked Kuralt if he'd like to "kill" "Captain Kangaroo," and the new man said, "Yeah." When he laughed a few days later CBS entertainment president Bud Ant didn't laugh at the remark. During a press conference he said that "Captain Kangaroo" is an institution and that Kuralt was ly kidding.

However, network executives and stars 't kid about ratings, and that's what's behind Kuralt's "only kidding" remark out the show. Kuralt's show is at the bottom of the morning news ratings — low both ABC and NBC. Kuralt is said believe he could gain in the ratings if he took over the Captain's time, or even 30 minutes of it.

"Captain Kangaroo" indeed is an institution. Bob Keeshan has played the role for 25 years and has entertained and informed untold thousands of children. This offering is not the usual TV pap — which provides no more than babysitting services; it is intelligent, informative, and there is no violence which parents are objecting so strenuously to.

Nevertheless, the children's show is not a big money-maker. During a recent interview Keeshan said he thought his show had not money some years. It's just not in the league with prime-time huckstering, but it is a welcome oasis in the television wasteland.

"Kill" the Captain? Why not "kill" Santa Claus or the Tooth Fairy? If warm-hearted Charlie Kuralt does have designs on the Captain's time, he might well find himself back "On The Road" — away back in the darkest boondocks. The Captain deserves to stay right on sailing so that many generations of children can enjoy the show and the better for it.

Reagan Cabinet Selections Mean Sharp Break

ough Cabinet members are theoretically equals, some turn out to be more equal than others.

By JEFFREY HARRIS
King Features Syndicate

The New York Times locked into the joys of Watergate, have been grumbling about Al Haig and the New Right has been disappointed by the establishmentarian cast of Reagan's Cabinet choices. Much of the press has been reassuring itself and its readers that the Cabinet is "not ideological," that it is "pragmatic," that, in short, it won't rock the boat.

These reactions strike me as superficial. I predict that this administration will surprise us, both at past, Nixon lobbied strongly for Haig's nomination; and Haig has been in close touch with both.

Those who have not followed Kissinger and Nixon closely may not realize that both men have changed a great deal since they took office in 1969. Both are much less establishmentarian than they were then.

Kissinger had come to power under Nixon from Harvard and Rockefeller. Nixon for most of his tenure as president had an excessive regard for the political and social power of the older Eastern establishment.

Both were traumatized by the flaccidity of that establishment on Vietnam, and then traumatized again by the casual way in which Angola was thrown

Those honored as Optimists were recognized in three areas. The three being art, letters (English), and science. These students would then attend an annual banquet.

OTHERS HONORED were the Rotarians who represented PCHS at the weekly Rotary Club meetings. One of the two chosen is the student body president who traditionally attends for the first semester. CHAPEL WAS a good experience for those who took part not only in the services but in spirit also. Besides the monthly speaking of Rev. Buckner and Dr. Crenshaw other speakers and vocalists spoke to the hearts of many. They came twice a week, on Mondays and Thursdays, giving of their time to participate in a chapel service. One of the speakers was this Fall's Spiritual Emphasis Week speaker,

Rev. Shaughnessy, who spoke of the Christian's spiritual battle in life. The week concluded as many made changes in their lives. THIS YEAR' O.A.W. faith promise campaign goal was "Everyone Sell One" with the idea of complete participation of all. 352 students sold at least one O.A.W. Another new idea was that of captains who prompt their fellow classmates to sell at least one. This money in turn would pay the difference not paid through tuition. The final count amounted to 2020 O.A.W.'s.

SONGS OF PRAISE

New Director Joins Music Department's Staff

The 1980-81 Concert Choir was under the new direction of Mr. Mike Bradley. They chose songs to glorify the Lord's name. During the year they had many fund raising projects to help pay for their annual tour to California. There they sang for Christian schools and churches. They also spent a day of fun at Knotts Berry Farm.

'80 Cougar Team Takes B-Central Title

First Time Undefeated Since 1954

The 1980 Cougar team conquered the B Central division title, kicking off the season by defeating Bourgade. Building up steam, the team went on to win all regularly scheduled games, thus earning a berth for a state championship bid and claiming the division title. However, the team was not without its setbacks. Dan Cadriel, center and middle guard, and Ken Kortman, cornerback, both suffered injuries, preventing them from playing the latter part of the season. It was a special season for the team, as they earned the distinction of being the first P.C.H.S. team in 21 years to be undefeated in all regularly scheduled games.

Seniors Lead In Service

THE VARSITY volleyball team ended the season with an overall record of 5-11 and a conference record of 4-6. Cindy Hopkins, one of the three returning varsity, was chosen as captain of the team by her teammates. Exceptional effort was put forth by Cindy who often had two practices one after another because of cheer practice. Sherry Furubotten was consistent in her serves and returns. She saved many returns by diving after them. Jody Feenstra led the team in spiking. She made several ace spikes for the team.

ALTHOUGH THE Cougars started slowly at the beginning of the season, the players gained valuable experience with their competition of "A" and "AA" teams. The Cougars played consistently well against other "B" schools. With only two out of the twelve players having had previous varsity experience they proved to be competitive and were a challenge to the other teams. The most improvement for the team this year was confidence. A person could easily see the total release philosophy work through the lives of the boys' varsity basketball team.

And Freshman Teams

Varsity Cheer

CHEERLEADERS PLAY an important role in school athletics. Their goal this year was to get the whole school involved and they wanted to be a good witness in classes and also to the cheerleaders of other schools. For example, they gave tracts to the other cheer lines during basketball season. The cheerleaders performed their annual pom routine at Homecoming to "The Theme of Rocky II."

Girls Grow From Experience

THE GIRLS' basketball team passed, dribbled, and shot through a rough season which began with a game against Cactus on December 2. New friendships were made and old friendships strengthened as they worked and grew together.

Wrestling . . . The

SOME STUDENTS are of the opinion that wrestling is a sport reserved for those who can't make the team in other sports. As in other sports, the wrestlers undergo intensive physical

Cougars Face Tough Competition

THIS YEAR'S Varsity baseball team experienced tremendous growing pains due to the inexperience of the team, according to Coach Howard Billings. He also commented on the fact that part of the starting lineup was composed of only four returning seniors and two freshman. The team leaders in hitting were Todd Raines and Olen Perznick.

THE JV baseball team opened the season with many new and inexperience players. Coach John Nelson said of the team, "Each game brought steady and gradual improvement in both the players and team." The JV team reached a peak in the season with a 7-3 victory over Independence.

Boys' Track Runs Into Winning Season

THIS YEAR'S boys' track team proved themselves worthy of recognition by their strong effort at state. The state track meet seemed to bring it all together for the main eight individual performers Doug Diehl, Dave Patterson, Paul Hamstra, Ron Payne, Brad Goodsell, Steve Haak, Ron Walker, and Mike Baker. In all of the events that they had qualified for, each person got his best times or distances of the year. Ron Payne took state in the 100 meter dash with a winning time of 11.12 seconds and was also a member of the 400 meter relay team that took state for the second year in a row with a time of 45.32 seconds. Only $\frac{1}{2}$ a point separated the team from being runner up.

ONE: Senior Dave Patterson participates in the 200 meter, 100 meter and is also a member of the winning 400 meter relay team.

TWO: Senior Ron Walker pole vaulted over 1 foot higher at state than he had all year and took second with a height of 12'6".

SIX: Seniors Doug Diehl and Steve Haak, the other members of the winning 400 meter relay team, execute a perfect hand off that is crucial in relays.

SEVEN: Junior Brad Goodsell's practice paid off at state with a second place distance of 47'3 14".

THE 1980-81 Girls' Track Team was a very young team. Of the twenty girls on the team only two, Cindi Hopkins and Jody Feenstra, were seniors. Cindi was instrumental to the team, becoming the most valuable field athlete and being a co captain along with Jody. Jody came into her first year of track and helped to promote spirit among her teammates. Kim Grunewald, in her third year of track, became the most valuable track athlete. Laura Francken in her freshman year was voted to be on the all conference team in the high jump event.

- ONE: Priscilla Macias demonstrates that nerves of steel are needed to take off from the starting blocks.
- TWO: Co Captain Jody Feenstra begins her first year of track in the shot put and discus events.

"The Witness"

An Inspiring Musical

THE 1980-81 concert choir presented "The Witness" on April 9-10. In this musical we hear from many Biblical characters. Peter, the fisherman who failed many times and still became an apostle; his wife who discovers she's married a traveling man; Mary the mother of Jesus, who finds favor with God; James and John, who begin to understand the kingdom of God; and Judas who realizes he has sold his own soul. Throughout this musical the choir sang songs about the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Cheerleaders Lead In Pep Assemblies

PEP ASSEMBLY? What is it for? "to promote school spirit and excitement for the games," "to support the team," "to advertise the games so people know what is going on," "to recognize the players and show them that we are behind them 100%." These are all right motives for having a pep assembly, and these are the goals of the cheerleaders who plan each assembly, for football, basketball, and one at the end of the year for track and baseball. The wrestlerettes also plan one for the wrestling team.

F.H.A. IS More Than Cooking And Sewing

FHA IS a nation wide organization with a national level, districts, regions, and sub-regions. Our chapter is in the La Casa Bonita district and had the privilege of holding the district meeting here at PCHS. The meeting consisted of workshops on surviving in the desert, silkscreening, and single survival. There was also a dinner for all the guests. The FHA chapter kept busy through the year with calendar sales, a girl ask guy hayride, Christmas workshops, and the installation banquet for new officers.

HE LEADETH ME IN SCHOLASTIC ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Seniors Trust The Lord To Lead In Future Decisions

Thoughts racing through the minds of Seniors are far from "the still waters" spoken of in Psalm 23. Decisions and questions relating to the future bombard them constantly.

"What are my lifetime goals? . . . Should I go to college? . . . What is God's will for me? . . . Can I cope with the world? . . . Is there life after high school?"

A more important question for a Senior to consider now is, "How have I affected my school and the people I am associated with today?" Every Senior class is unique in that it contains a group of individuals who are different from those of every other year. Though the situations remain the same, (Homecoming, Mr. Hovda's Bible class, spine-tingling football games, the famous term paper, prayer time in Mr. Thorp's government class, Ditch Day, and finally graduation) the individuals are different. And every Senior class that passes through Phoenix Christian High adds a part to the body of their school that no other class, past or future, could give making their year a unique and special one.

The future is still important but instead of worrying about it, Christians need to seek the Lord's leading to open doors. Christ says,

"Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you. Take therefore no thought for tomorrow, for tomorrow shall take thought for the things of itself. . . ." (matthew 6:33&34)

Sophomores Show Winning Spirit

THE SOPHOMORE class started their second year on a wave of excitement with a swim party which reunited everyone after a short summer. The wave quickly receded as the sophomores were soon involved in the tedious cycle of homework once again. School events provided an escape from this work to give time to build friendships.

Take two years at a Christian College and prepare for a job.

Learn a skill you'll need in tomorrow's job market. Save time and money by learning it in only two years.

Study at a college that's small enough to be concerned about you as an individual. Develop life-long friends among Central's instructors and the other students.

Experience the personal and spiritual growth you've been wanting. Central will challenge you to a deeper commitment to Jesus Christ, and to serving others.

CONGRATULATIONS TAMIE
WE LOVE YOU

THE JOB of yearbook editor is a big one. In fact, when I was first on the staff my Sophomore year I didn't want any part of it. It sounded like such a responsibility. At the end of my Junior year I was asked to be editor of the 1981 Beacon. Feeling scared yet excited I accepted the proposition and started preparation for this year's book. Yearbook camp took me to NAU in Flagstaff for a week of seminars, lectures, specialty classes, and labs, all relating to the yearbook. In addition to the hard work I enjoyed special activities and making new friends. I decided on my theme, completed my ladder and was ready to start work on the book in August.

NOW THE hard work really started when section assignments were made, and the cover, end sheets, colors and type styles were chosen. Fortunately we had a higher degree of experience this year with five returning staffers, and the six new ones contributed creative ideas. Much credit should be given to my Ad-Staff manager Scott Davis who came in as a new member and did a great job on ad sales, making special effects possible. Duke Photography, along with our own photographers captured memories that will live on for years to come. And, of course, Mrs. Miner was always there with a word of encouragement or good advice.

BY BEING editor I've learned much about responsibility, time management, co-operation, creativity, and giving of myself to make the 1981 Beacon a special gift to you the student body — my friends.

Dear Pam,

I know it's been an eventful year, and though you've used me to the max, I still love you. We didn't get much of a chance to develop our relationship, but you still mean a lot to me, you've taken a part of me that cannot be replaced, so naturally I feel very close to you. But seriously, I really had fun playing boyfriend for you, even though I ~~was~~ knew it could of been the last thing I ever did, but it was fun. Remember that night in January when it was cold, and we both decided to make the best of it, or was it you, well, I don't know it was, but it was fun, thanks.

Love Always
